FOREWORD.

St. John's congregation may look back on 1987 as the year when the Lord let manna fall from the sky above the church. In many ways it has seemed to us incredible and impossible yet it has happened and the reality of it is now slowly sinking in. We sincerely thank God for His continuing providence and for continually surprising and challenging us.

I suggest that we also look at this another way. We have released some of the frozen assets of the church and are now able to use these for the kingdom of God in new creative ways. In fact, I believe God is urging us to break out of autonomous concepts and limitations into exciting new possibilities for ministry in the city. Now there is nothing to stop us entering into an outreach ministry in the inner city; youth ministry is urgent. Training in ministry skills both for lay people and students for full time ministry can be based at St. John's. St. John's can promote Biblical and Theological study which is at a low ebb in the Presbyterian Church today.

My mind boggles at all the possibilities and the only obstacle I see is our need to allow the Spirit of God to expand our spiritual horizons. God has great things for us now we must do great things for God.

May God bless you all.

Maurice A. Brown.

ROBERT BRUCE FOWLER.

This minute records the long devoted and outstanding service of Robert Bruce Fowler in St. John's Church Wellington

Bruce Fowler first worshipped in St. John's in 1912 when he stayed with the Hon. J.G.W. Aitken then an Elder of St. John's. He served in the First World War and was twice wounded. Returning to New Zealand at the end of the war he took up farming in Middlemarch in Otago but returned to Wellington to set up in business as an electrician and electrical retailer.

He and his wife joined St. John's in September 1927. In 1932 he was elected to the Board of Managers and two years later he was ordained as an Elder. He had also been teaching in the Sunday School and in 1935 he became the Sunday School Superintendent a position he held for the next 22 years. On his retirement as Superintendent the Session of the day recorded their gratitude for the way he had continued to serve the Sunday School with a conscious loyalty which the years had not dimmed. Many of his former scholars had testified to the gracious Christian influence he brought to bear on their lives. The Session went on to say that they and the Congregation had the utmost confidence that the children under his care would be truly brought up in the "nurture and admonition of the Lord".

Throughout this period he had continued to contribute to the life and work of the Church as an Elder being at various times on the Seat Letting, Envelope Finance and Property Committees until he was appointed Session Clerk in November 1961. He held that office until ill health forced his retirement in 1973. The Messenger at that time in a tribute to Bruce Fowler recorded that he had put his heart and soul into the discharge of his duties. He was thorough and meticulous. He displayed a profound knowledge of procedure and a happy knack of being able to anticipate problems and reduce them to size. He set a standard which was an inspiration to others.

Bruce Fowler was loyally supported by his wife Meg a charming and understanding lady and also by their five children all of whom were active in the life of the Church. After the death of his first wife Bruce married in 1963 Anwyl Hughes the daughter of the late Rev. Gladstone Hughes a former Minister of St. John's. They supported each other in the service of St. John's and in later years Anwyl gave devoted and sacrificial Christian love in caring for Bruce in his long and debilitating illness until his death on the 20th. February 1987.

Those who knew Bruce Fowler will remember a kindly happy man with a deep understanding of the young and with a caring heart for everyone, busy in good works and constant in the service of his Lord and Master. A fine example of a Christian man.

Session minute 1 April 1987.

Last year Reverend Maurice A. Brown took up his appointment and this year has been his first full year as our Minister. During the year many of us have had the opportunity of visiting the Manse as various Elders and their groups of members have accepted the invitation. It has been a treat to see the Manse, and have morning tea with Mary and Maurice and their Co host and hostesses Katie, Jenny and Graham. It is hoped that the remaining Elders and their groups and anyone else who has not yet been able to accept the invitation will be able to do so during the coming summer.

Maurice has not spared himself in his Ministry to us from the pulpit and in countless personal ways to those of us who have needed special support. He has also been heavily involved with some difficult Presbytery matters and the Council of Wellington Churches where he is Vice-Chairman. Maurice is also the current President of Victoria House Society and is Honary President of the Boys and Girls Institute.

The Communion Roll now stands at 263 which is 6 less than last year following 5 deaths, 15 disjunctions and 14 additions. There are also 101 on the roll of adherents.

Elders Personal: It is with deep regret that we record the death of Mr. Bruce Fowler who was inducted as an elder in 1933. His exceptional contribution to the life of St. John's spanning 54 years is recorded separately.

During the year Alan Marsh resigned and transferred to a church nearer to his home and Peter Aitken left to take up an appointment in Auckland. Both of them played an active leadership roll in the life of the church and we wish them well for the future.

Services: After a trial period of three months the congregation agreed by an overwhelming majority to change the time of worship from 11 a.m. to 10 a.m. and while the earlier start does not suit everyone there are many advantages provided by the earlier time.

Church Office: The establishment of a church office in Spinks Cottage has been a great asset in centralising the church activities in a position where it is readily accessible to anyone by telephone or to casual callers who make their way to Dixon Street. It is hoped that this centre will be expanded to meet the increasing needs of the parish.

Presbytery Visitation: In April we had the 5 yearly Presbytery visitation conducted by The Very Rev. N.F. Gilkinson, Rev.M.Baker, Mrs. M. Robinson and Mr.I.Steel.

Since the previous visitation the hall building had been rebuilt on its new site, Spinks Cottage repositioned and redecorated and the church office and study set up on the ground floor. The Church building had been re-roofed and repainted and the Manse in Kelburn sold and a new Manse purchased in Khandallah. The committee congratulated the congregation for achieving so much, most of which was due to the enthusiasm and efficiency of the Board of Managers. The conclusions of the committee are printed in this report.

Comprehensive Thanks: Session is grateful to all who have led the organisations and groups and given their support throughout the year. Our thanks also to the individual members who do so much for others in a quiet way and help gain for St. John's a reputation of being a "friendly church".

The Year Ahead: There is no doubt that the year ahead will present many ideas and challenges that we must face up to and examine carefully as we proceed to expand our work into areas that we could not previously contemplate.

I am sure that with a good measure of tolerance, love and understanding and Gods help we will be able to set our goals and achieve much during the year.

Alan W. Darroch - Session Clerk

REPORT ON THE PRESBYTERY VISITATION

ST JOHN'S CHURCH,
WELLINGTON
April 1987

Presbytery sends its greetings to you, the members and adherents of St Johns Church. We are encouraged by the very evident signs of spiritual life and vitality in the Congregation.

In the past five years you have been served by able ministers, David Steedman, Jim Veitch and now Maurice Brown. Even in these days of declining membership, many people are still attending worship. We hope and pray that more people, young and old, will come forward to membership by profession of faith.

The numbers attending Boys' and Girls' Brigades are an indication of your outreach amongst young people, especially from families in the parish. We are grateful to those who are active in helping Presbyterian Support.

As it is with many churches, the numbers of children and young people have dropped but it is good to know that the Session has resolved to put greater emphasis on youth work and to provide training for teachers and youth leaders.

The organisations of St Johns appear to be active in support of the church and its mission. You are aware of the needs of travellers who visit your church and make sure that they are given a warm welcome and hospitality. The Session is to be congratulated for the far-seeing task-group report on "The Mission of St Johns - the Way Forward." We pray that God will give you wisdom and strength to follow in these directions. You will always be challenged by the needs of ministry in the inner city and in your parish. May we remind you that you share this with other congregations in your area. This ministry is yours in St Johns even though you might live outside the parish.

A great deal has been done within the last five years with your buildings. We are impressed with what has been achieved and also with the plans you have for the immediate future. It is hardly necessary to remind you that the property and buildings are not there for their own sake but as instruments to be used for the work of God's Kingdom and for the Gospel of Jesus Christ. This should be borne in mind in the management of money raised by the sale of the plot ratio.

As a church you have been faithful in supporting the Budget for Assembly Enterprises and have responded to many appeals. There is always need for all members to examine themselves and ensure that they are good stewards of God's gifts to them.

May you remain true to the inheritance you have received in the church through Christ Jesus and continue to bear fruit to his glory.

APPOINTMENT OF ELDERS.

The following report on the question of elders being appointed for a three year tenure instead of the present unlimited tenure was adopted by Session on 1 April 1987. The Book of Order provides for either alternative.

The three-year tenure suggestion might, of course, arise from a misunderstanding of the activities of Session, namely from the view-point that the modus vivendi of Session membership is participation in mainly routine meetings and periodic distribution of cards and other printed material. While we would not expect such an uninformed view-point we cannot entirely disregard the possibility.

Setting aside any such misconception, there are two main arguments for a three-year tenure. The first is that without such limitation Session tends, with the passage of years, to become overloaded with spent elderly people. One look at the membership of St. John's Session, of course, disposes of this argument as far as St. John's is concerned.

The other argument for three year tenure is that where members of Session have a longer tenure they may get into a rut which loses initiatives. In St. John's we have been alive to this possibility and our internal system of rotation of service in the offices and committees of Session ensures recurring new approaches without loss of continuity.

In the St. John's situation, therefore, the arguments for a three-year tenure do not carry so much weight. This does not deny that there can be other situations in which they could carry more weight.

All the arguments for a three-year tenure, however, overlook the fact that the most basic function of an elder is, or should be, the extension of the pastoral ministry of the Minister. An elder's prime function is the pastoral care of the members in his or her district. This is essentially the building up of a warm relationship based on knowledge of the people concerned, their backgrounds, their experiences, their problems, and resting on mutual confidence between them and their elder. This sort of relationship is not a hastily assembled arrangement built and dismantled within a three-year stint. At its best it becomes a close life-long bond of enduring Christian care and confidence.

While the pastoral relationship is the overwhelming argument in favour of unlimited tenure of eldership, there are of course other considerations of which experience is highly important. Within a three-year period an elder is not likely to accumulate any great store of experience in problem situations and cases, in the practical applications of principles and procedures, in the work of Presbytery, and so on.

An elder may, of course, resign from Session at any time, or seek leave for a period, or be relieved of some of his or her duties, or be retired from active office though remaining available in whatever capacity may be called for. All of these options are exercised appropriately by elders in St. John's so that Session remains a strong and active body without losing the resources of knowledge, experience, wisdom and faith which are so often the fruits of long service.

BOARD OF MANAGERS

Sale of Plot Ratio: There is little doubt that the sale of part of the Church's surplus plot ratio, or development rights, has been the most momentous item of business for the Board of Managers in this last year. We give thanks that we have been blessed with sufficient funds to take the burden of maintenance of our historic site from the shoulders of the congregation and to allow for the upgrading of the McDonald Crescent building and vacant part of the Church site, as well as providing funds for the outreach and other activities of the Church within this parish and wider. We are indeed a fortunate congregation and now have much to challenge us in the wise use of the funds and in responding to the opportunities that they bring us to increase our witness to the Lord. The sale of the plot ratio did not take place without a great deal of work by a number of people and the Board expresses its thanks to them, and in particular to Mr Jim Lynch our Lawyer whose advice and work on our behalf was invaluable. It was essential that the correct legal procedures were followed for such a sale, particularly with sums of over $7 million involved.

Management of the Capital and Income: As we have reported to the congregation, the money received from the sale of the plot ratio is regarded, under the Church Property Trustee Act, as Capital, and therefore can only be used for capital purposes such as the purchase of property or building, or it can be invested. It is only the income from the investment that is available for non-capital expenditure. The Board is concerned that it has the appropriate documentation and structures in place to manage the capital fund and the income it generates. To this end it set up a committee under the convenorship of Sir John Marshall to consider and recommend on these matters. In the interim the Board has established an Investment Advisory Committee to advise the Church Property Trustees on the investment of the capital sum.

Office Development and Equipment: In our last Annual Report, we forecast a Church Centre in a small wing attached to the north side of the hall. It was decided not to go ahead with this when it became clear that we would have funds to upgrade the McDonald Crescent site and our architect advised the proposed centre could spoil the future integration of the whole site. The office was made in the northern end of the Fellowship Room for an interim period, but as this was not entirely suitable, it was agreed that it be moved to the lounge and study of Spinks Cottage. It was possible to retain the student flat and separate it from the offices and this has proved an acceptable interim solution. It is presently the Board's intention that purpose built offices, giving space and flexibility, will eventually be included in the upgraded McDonald Crescent site. Office equipment and furniture was acquired at extremely advantageous cost, and we are grateful for the gift of an answerphone.

Property Maintenance: The Board had intended to refurbish the Bible Class hall this year, but with the advent of the plot ratio sale decided to wait until it was known what funds would be available, and integrate the whole upgrading of the property. General maintenance has continued and we are grateful for all those who have given time to this. To assist it with long term planning of the ongoing maintenance of the whole site the Board commissioned the Ministry of Works and Development to examine the whole property and provide us with a Cyclical Maintenance plan. This will programme the major maintenance for the next 20 years, and give estimates of cost, so that long term budgeting and management plans can be put in place.

The Board was encouraged by the congratulations of the Quinquennial Visitation team on the manner in which it was maintaining the property and the approach it was taking to management.

Other Property Matters: We were advised during the year that the Historic Places Trust had given a B Rating to Spinks Cottage, which is the same rating as the Church. The Trust are impressed with the standard of restoration and the work the Church has put into achieving this. The Catering Group during the year organised and paid for the upholstering of the cream vinyl metal framed chairs (which we had owned for some 20 years) in the Fellowship Room, and for the green wool upholstered chairs which we obtained second-hand (in near new condition) at a very favourable price and we would record this gift.

Annual Accounts: We are able to report that we have finished the year with a deficit of $1,182 which is a better situation than was anticipated in our 1986/87 Budget which forecast a deficit of $13,635. The picture is somewhat misleading however, as the Board ceased the monthly $1000 transfer to maintenance reserves in December, thus the maintenance reserve has been underfunded by $7,000. This was only agreed to because of the pending plot ratio sale. We would note, with appreciation, the sterling efforts of those who assisted with the fair which raised $4,000, as this was $2,500 more than budgeted. We are pleased that St John's was able to meet its Assembly Budget contribution in full, despite the projected deficit and that St John's members also contributed through special individual gifts as a result of the Moderator's appeal.

Bequest: We were gratified to receive a bequest of $2,500 from the estate of Miss Barbara Jenkins. The Board is still to decide how this generous gift will be used, but has asked the Christian Education Committee of Session to give some thought to uses for training of adult leaders.

Membership: We welcomed Rona Bailey and Ron Chesney to our membership this year and regretfully farewell Trevor McDonald, Paul Haggett, Gillian Woodward and Margaret Krebs. David Smith, our Treasurer, resigned toward the end of last year, and the Board would especially mention the work that he undertook in this position. The Treasurer's work in St John's is demanding and time consuming and we record our thanks to David for his wise management and advice. Philip Carew is our present Treasurer.

Thanks: A special thankyou to Bob and Pat McCay who hosted a very successful social and fund raising evening at the BNZ to raise funds for the Ngatiawa Camp site. We are grateful for the support of those who came and contributed to St. John's commitment to the camp development. Our appreciation to the Manse family for progressively inviting the congregation to very enjoyable morning teas at 32 Ngatoto St., so that you have the opportunity of seeing our new Manse. No voluntarily run organisation with property and commitments as sizable as St John's can operate effectively without the help and contributions of many people and the Board acknowledges with thanks all the support it has received during the year.

During the last 12 months chaired by Mrs. Harris we have met six times. The object of these meetings is to plan functions and to unite women of the congregation in fellowship.

Some of the special functions during the year have been:-

6 July	1986	Congregational lunch.
31 August	"	Women's service.
21 September	"	Congregational lunch before the Annual Meeting.
18 October	"	Market Day.
21 December	"	Christmas morning tea before church service.
24 April	1987	Gate Stall.

As well as the above activities, home hospitality is arranged for visitors after morning service. Food parcels are collected every Sunday, and children's knitted jerseys and woollen quilts are made by members of the congregation for St. Peter's Pantry.

Saturday at 2 is still proving very popular when entertainment and afternoon tea is arranged by the various organisations in the church.

St. John's women took their turn in helping at "Busy Fingers", and during the year have helped Boys Brigade with sewing and mending.

Catering:- The Catering Committee has had a busy year and through their efforts have contributed $600 to the church for up-grading the chairs in the hall, $270-79 was spent on new equipment for catering purposes, and a large print Bible for the lectern costing $273 was given to the church. This money was raised through catering for 2 small functions for the Assembly Committee, 2 weddings, a luncheon for a party of Shetland Islanders, and Girls Brigade functions.

Flowers:- in the church are arranged each week special thanks go to the convenors, Mrs. Noyle Brown and Mrs. Joyce Darroch, and to the roster of willing assistants.

P.S.S.:- St. John's representatives on Auxiliary, Mrs. Harris and Miss Williams, attend meetings once a month. During the year the Opportunity Shop and Lounge moved further down Cuba Street. Thanks are extended to St. John's members who helped at both the shop and lounge. Auxiliary Meetings this year have been planning for the Fair to be held in October.

A.P.W.:- Representatives from St. John's women attend the Wellington A.P.W. meetings each month.

Harvest Field:- Mrs. Reeves reports there are 47 subscribers to this very fine "new look" monthly magazine.

THE BOYS' BRIGADE.

Introduction:- The work of the B.B. and G.B. in our church is the main outreach to the young people in the near community and is of considerable value.

Strength at 30 June.	Boys	Officers
Anchor Boys	8	1
Team Section	24	4
Company Section	22	3
	54	8

The number of Boys for a down town Company is very good indeed. Although 8 people for 54 Boys may appear to be a lot, badge work is broken up into various age groupings each requiring an officer and a back-up person. There is, in fact, a shortage of 3 Officers in the Team Section.

Activities:- The combined camp at Paekakariki in March with 27 Boys in attendance was a huge success. Handiness to the beach was a great help. Recently the Company Section had a day with the 14th Company (Karori) when they went fishing in the morning, played games in the afternoon, and watched videos until 2 a.m. in the hall. The Team Section has also had a "sleep-in" in the hall and watched videos. The Company Section has entered most Battalion sporting activities during the year. The Team Section again won the soccer shield.

Leadership Development Course:- Due to the generosity of St. John's people L/Cpl. Raman Lal attended part 1 of this course in the May holidays and Colour Sergeant Christopher Lane and Cpl. Adie Etuata and L/Cpl. David Adams attended part 11. These Boys later spoke of their experience at a Church Parade at St. John's. They are a credit to the Company.

B.B. Bible Class and Sunday School:- There are 16 Boys on the roll and a regular attendance of 12.

The Anchor Boys:- The Anchor Boys has had another good year under the efficient leadership of Mrs. Gilmour. Although numbers are small a need is met.

Boys:- Of the 54 Boys in the total Company less than one third are pakeha. This year we have two Russian Boys as well as Indian, Fijian, Chinese, Samoan, Cook Island, Niuean and Maori Boys.

Appreciation:- I wish to record my appreciation to the many people who have helped with transport, donations, classwork, parties and in other ways during this past year. Especially I should like to thank the officers for their hard work and devotion.

CHOIR.

It is said that "Music is the language of the Universe" and this is very much in evidence in the choir gallery these days. Although it might not be apparent in the singing voices, there are no fewer than four nations represented - England, New Zealand, Scotland and the United States of America. The most recent addition is Deitrich Stewart from Santa Barbara, California, who has just commenced a two year spell of work in Wellington.

The disbandment of the Wesley Church choir last year was to St. John's advantage and we welcomed Annette, David and Syd. We had a tenor section once more! We were happy to sing at Syd's wedding in May and enjoyed a social evening at Syd and Roma's home a month later.

The choir has participated in several "special" services over the past twelve months, including the licensing service of former choir member Ron Mills. It was good to have Dianne and Ron and the boys back with us at St. John's for the short period.

The usual annual events came and went with the same level of participation and enjoyment - singing carols to the housebound, entertaining Saturday at 2, and the end-of-summer picnic at Te Horo.

We look forward to another year of harmony, although in these days of 'ratios' the female voices are in danger of being drowned out by the ever-increasing number of male choristers. New members are always welcome - in any section.

Our grateful thanks to Ray Wilderspin for his enthusiasm and encouragement (not to mention patience) and Maurice Brown for his support and appreciation of our music. The combined ideas of the organist and minister could make for an interesting year ahead.

Finally we thank the congregation for its acknowledgement of our efforts week by week.

Margaret Davidson.

CRADLE ROLL

We currently have 33 babies and small children in our care. During the Sunday morning service a creche operates in the Fellowship Room. Thanks are due to the 11 people who take a turn in phoning and reminding those 40 volunteers who are rostered to assist in caring for our little ones. Older children in the group now participate in worship, in particular, learning new songs to share. Morning meetings are held regularly on the 2nd and 4th Wednesday of each month at St. John's, while informal gatherings are held in the homes of members on the remaining Wednesdays. Studies over the past year have included the series "Living in Christ", a workbook for new Christians, and a study led by Rev. Maurice Brown. On other mornings we have held a pre-Christmas shopping creche, a party, and a chocolate making demonstration. Strengths evident within this group are the fellowship shared, and the support given each other.

Marion Longstaff - Convenor.

"SATURDAY AT TWO".

Interesting holiday slides, medical help to Afghanistan refugees, the earthquake in the Bay of Plenty, children playing Indonesian musical instruments and others singing nautical songs, together with a variety of films, musical and vocal programmes have all added interest and enjoyment to the regular Saturday at 2 gatherings. The Fellowship Room continues to be a very welcoming place for nearby residents and others to gather on alternate Saturday afternoons. The programmes and afternoon teas provided by many members of the congregation are very much appreciated, and this has been expressed in a tangible way by the valuable monetary contribution made towards the refurbishing of the Fellowship Room chairs.

EVENING GUILD.

Fiftyone years ago there is mention in the annual report of St. John's congregation of a happy fellowship of women meeting in homes to support the work of the PWMU and Women's Association. From that small beginning, the Evening Guild has a wonderful record of steady, faithfully work and witness. It has been an integral part of the life of St. John's, but the changing structures of society have brought many difficulties. During the past 3 years it has not been possible to appoint executive officers. The answers to a widely distributed questionnaire were closely studied and it was evident that there was a desire for the Evening Guild to continue in its present form. We are very grateful and record our thanks to the present committee for their continuing efforts, and for what they have been able to arrange over the past year.:-

A demonstration on chocolate making was the forerunner to many new and innovative sweets appearing on the Market Day sweet stall.

An activity evening held in Betty Robertson's home.

Mrs. Wendy Gould hosted in her home a delightful evening when fragrant tussie mussions were made from spring flowers.

A "Come as You are" congregational tea and entertainment arranged at the end of the year was a very pleasant evening.

Early in 1987 a discussion was held to find out what was expected from the group. There seemed to be nudges to move into new patterns and challenging ways.

The Guild years are full of memories of warm fellowship and have provided many opportunities for relaxation, service, and spiritual growth. There has been much patience, sharing and caring in the combined efforts. The memories of the unseen cloud of witnesses fill us with humility and challenge us to new ways, to love more worthily, and they point us to the Christ, whose grace was sufficient for them, and is today sufficient for us.

MISSIONS.

On a fairly regular basis we hear from Anne and Max Cope with the Sudan Interior Mission in Kenya. They have been busy learning the language, getting involved in village life and preaching the gospel. We also hear from Di Caldwell who has recently moved to the United Arab Emirates to work in a hospital. She had previously spent 9 months in Cyprus. We recently heard from Friends of Jagadhri that the Christian Hospital now has an X-ray machine, making life a lot easier for staff and patients.

Members of St. John's supported the Mission Budget through the following:
Sale of Used Stamps	$117-29	Convenor Miss M. Krebs.
Sale of Tea Coupons	$ 16-60	" Miss I. Greig.
Mission Birthday Gift	$523-20	" Mrs. F.M. Robertson.
Mission Boxes	$103-29	" Mrs. C. Goudswaard.

ST. PETER'S PANTRY

The organisers of St. Peter's Pantry are very grateful for the support given by St. John's members. The need for help in the Aro Valley does not diminish and over the year a large number of families have been helped by our contributions to have sufficient to meet their day to day needs. When circumstances change and either mother or father become employed their weekly support foodwise is cut out, but help continues with budgeting and the organisation of their needs. So, a very special thank you to St. John's members who so faithfully bring their contribution each week, and to those who have been knitting and making patchwork blankets an extra thank you. Such support is greatly appreciated and your help is making a very real contribution to the needs of the unemployed in our parish bounds.

Mary Mortimer - Convenor.

FELLOWSHIP GROUP.

Several more miles have been walked by the group and two theatre parties have enjoyed local productions this year. Our walks have taken us to the Belmont Regional Park, on hills around Wellington and Johnsonville, to see the seals at Palliser Bay, and into the Orongarongas to climb Mt. Matthews. This last trip was an "overnighter" thanks to friends of the trip's leader. Weather wasn't quite as good as we've often had but the climb was very worthwhile. Numbers on the trips have varied and we do appreciate our trip leaders efforts. Thank you Bill Roberts, Cecil Duff and John Hunt and of course all who participated.
